Statements by FBI agents: "nylon" strapping tape was used. "every one" of the ~~dis~~ devices worked. (Probably from Time, early May, 1995.) FC was marked on "practically all" of the devices.

Quotations from Tyler's letter given in Chronicle or LA Times are something like this: he doubts my claim that the system can't be reformed, and suggests that my revolution is already in progress. As evidence, he mentions that people are moving to the country and recycling their trash.

One newspaper article, probably the LA Times between June 29 and July 12, stated that not one shred of biological evidence had been found, not one fingerprint, not one hair.

Better way of characterizing those revolutionaries who should not be trusted
by our kind of revolutionaries: they have one of two traits (or both):
1. They devote themselves to a cause in which they have little personal stake.
2. They put more emphasis on placing greater restrictions on

Just where the ridge drops off sharply, to east of ridge find pleasant, grassy depression. Running south from this depression find a couple of trails through marshy thicket. Follow the one farthest from the stream bottom to where it is barred by 2 pine logs, upper one with large rosin stain. Past logs, follow path as it curves to left. Follow path of

This rifle apparently has no serial number on it, but it can be identified by lower-case Greek letters α δ ω scratched on barrel (by me) just in front of the action.

The αδω is on the underside of the barrel.

You have to take the stock off to see it.

Location of cabin

Go down through logged-off area where it borders the uncut woods till you come to (relatively) good road where it ends in a circle. From circle follow rocky ridge crest in a generally downward direction a short distance till you come to some prominent rocks affording look-out to the left. Here go down into the gulch to the left, find good ~~trad~~ trail that
